ODD FELLOWS' EXCURSION

To Lake Lodge,

FRIDAY, AUG. 23

Decorations of Chivalry Will Be Confirmed.

COMMISSIONERS WILL

LIKELY MEET

The Park Board to Take Up the Controversy Over the Painting of the Park Fountain by Non-Union

Labor, but What Action They

Will Take Is Purely Speculative.

Developments of a Day.

The trouble over the painting of the fountain in Memorial park by non-union workmen has become a veritable tempest in a teapot.

The aroused ire of the Central Labor union, or at least, some of the members, and the fact that they have taken to bring about the repainting of the modest figure on the fountain, are the absorbing topics these days, and all sorts of speculation is indulged in as to the probable outcome of the controversy.

Yesterday Mr. Hertzog, of the committee, finished his canvass among the merchants to secure their signatures to the petition asking the park commissioners to order a repainting of the fountain and the fixtures about the park that were decorated by workmen outside of union labor's ranks. All of the merchants were visited, but a number were either out of the city or not at their places of business when Mr. Hertzog called.

The names attached to the petition are as follows: McAnn Bros., Edward Healey, New York, Philadelphia and Confectionery company, James Pidgeon, J. F. McDonald, Evening

Leader, Edward Gorman, John Cox, R.

J. Kilbullen, J. J. McNulty, Aug. Sten-sen, James Coughlin, W. J. Bryan, Abraham, Henry Fahm, Nicola Med-del, Louis Gardella, J. J. Neill, W. H.

McGraw, D. D. S. G. T. Coffey, D. O.

Ryker, R. Blair, Dougherty & Martin,

Joseph De Bore, Henry Collins, John

Mannion, Thomas J. Monaghan, J. C.

Reese, J. W. Barrett, William F. Lot-fuss, J. F. Burke, T. A. Walker, J. R.

McGhee, Van Beck Bros., D. B. Griffin,

Shannon & Co., J. W. Dunne, R. A.

Kelly, J. E. Morgan, J. E. Beck, Sullivan & Regan, S. A. Williams, Baker-man Grady, B. F. Williams & Son, Coddington & Thompson, J. P. A.

Tingley, Thomas E. Campbell, John

Edwards, T. J. Mulholland, Timothy

McGowan, Peter Flynn.

Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Hertzog and other members of the Central Labor union committee called on Joseph

M. Alexander, one of the park commissioners, and by choice of the board, superintendent of the park, a position which he has filled, with salary, for more than fifteen years.

It was Mr. Alexander who directed the painting of the fountain, as he has been the custom for years, so it was him that the petition was chiefly directed. Mr. Alexander cordially received the committee, and after reading the petition and noting the signatures, he informed his audience that he did not intend to recede from his position, unless he was specifically directed by the park commissioners.

Mr. Alexander always claims credit for his uniform frankness, did not make this occasion an exception, and he bluntly informed the committee that in his opinion the action of the Central Labor union was "baby-faced." He reiterated his refusal to order a repainting of the fountain and fixtures by union hands, even though the unions pay for the work, as it was suggested; unless, however, the park board order the same in regular form.

Mr. Alexander, however, gave the visitors this satisfaction, that the park commissioners would likely meet to consider the petition, and if they would, the labor union's representatives would be so informed.

Respecting this, The Tribune is informed enough to say, that it is more than likely that the park board, with the exception of Mayor Kilpatrick, who is at Atlantic City, will hold an early meeting. What action the board will take, however, is purely speculative.

No federation can be based on the present indications, for it is an open secret that there is some division of opinion among the commissioners as to the expediency of ordering a repainting. Mr. Alexander has stated his position, conceding his position, no one will question that he will not alter it.

Then it is the belief, based on opinions that have been expressed since the opening of the controversy, that not all of the members of the board would favor a repainting now that the work has been done.

Whatever opposition there may be among the board to a re-painting, it is not founded on a disbelie in organized labor, but rather that it would be less prudent and dignified than if the existing question were disposed of by merely passing a resolution that hereafter no work be done about the parks unless carried out by recognized union workmen.

MATTERS AFFECTED.

Whatever may be the outcome, it is the earnest wish of the promoters of the semi-centennial celebration, that the regrettable incident be brought to a speedy close. One of the consequences of the controversy is the suspension of most of the jubilee plans, particularly the work of decorating.

The decorators are in town ready to carry out their plans, but the fear that possibly the celebration might be interrupted, by reason of the threatened action of the labor union, matters were sort of slowed up until the prospect of safe traveling would become a bit brighter.

HOW PAINTING WAS ORDERED.

There seems to be a misapprehension of the facts that led up to the painting of the fountain by Frank & Sons, at the direction of Mr. Alexander. The story that one hears every quarter of the town is that Mr. Alexander acted directly against the wishes of the board and gave the job to a non-union firm, when it was the sense of the board that union painters be given the work. Among the facts gathered by The Tribune man yesterday was that the board did not painting this year, and during the discussion it was pointed out to Mr.

Alexander to be cautious and not give out park work in a way that would injure his business. This suggestion was called forth by Mr. Alexander telling the minutes of the last year's union took against him, presumably because of his having employed Frank & Sons. There was nothing done with reference to the painting until some weeks ago, and a couple of months after the meeting in April, when Maynor or Kilpatrick suggested to Mr. Alexander that it would be well to have the park fountain brightened with paint colors for the semi-centennial celebration. Mr. Alexander says he painting this year, as customary with him, he gave the work to the painter who has done all of the park painting for over a dozen years. This covers all of the circumstances of the work, so far as the records show.

Mr. Alexander affirms that he has no opposition to organized labor, and the only circumstances that led him to give the work to Frank & Sons, were that this firm has always done the park work long before the labor union question, and that he was the heavily taxpayer among the painters of the town.

IN DEFENSE OF MR. COUGHLIN.

Letter From John D. Nealon Refuting Charges in Sunday Paper.

The appearance of an article in the Carbondale correspondence of the Evening Telegram in which Superintendent Thomas G. Coughlin, of the Lackawanna Valley Electric Light company, was referred to as a "lobbyist," has called forth the following reply and defense from John D. Nealon.

The letter reads:

To The Tribune:

Mr. Coughlin, whose name has been brought so unpleasantly and unjustly before the people of this city and valley, in the Evening Telegram correspondence Sunday, charging him with being a lobbyist in the interest of the Lackawanna Valley Heat and Power company, the company with which he is so prominently connected, and which position he is honorably earning by strict honesty, sobriety and responsible citizenship. The Telegram's story is a wholesale fabrication, inspired for the sole purpose of putting a night on the reputation of one of our citizens whose name it is a pleasure to speak of, and who has the universal respect and esteem of the people of this city, regardless of creed, race or politics. On every hand where Mr. Coughlin
